

September Visit 2022

I woke up this morning, got dressed, and came out and got my 1st cup of coffee. I took Ellie out to go to the bathroom and for her to get a drink out of the pond. That's kind of my morning ritual. After she's done, she comes up on the porch and lays down while I have my morning smoke. She waits for me to finish and then gets up and follows me into the house through the dog door. She always waits for me but today was different. She got up, looked at the dog door and was very excited to get inside. She only does that when Gabby comes over but Gabby wasn't coming over today.

So I wondered what she got so excited about. I finished my smoke and went inside to see what she was up to. I opened the door, went inside and looked in the office. What a sight to see! Ellie was sitting on the floor and Michael was standing over her. I almost felt like they were communicating. So I broke it up by saying, "Well it is about time you showed up, we need to talk."

Michael... From the tone in your voice you seem to be upset.

Upset would be an understatement. I spent a whole year putting the conference together. You told us we if we had 222 masters standing in the grand formation we could make a major change in the world. So, we end up with a little over 70 masters showing up but I was really hoping we would've hit the number and change everything in the world.

Michael... Joe you did what you were asked to do. You created a space to hold the number of people you were asked to stand in the grand formation. You were not asked to get the people there. All you were to do was to find the space and you did that.

So, I got the space and people showed up but it gets even better. When it came time to do the gatherings, there was one of the masters who said that they needed to read Blessings, Gifts, and Deeds and do the baptism before being gathered. I know when you first gave us the OK to do a gathering at the conference, it was to help those people who couldn't get gathered because no one was doing gatherings. So I need a little clarity here. How do I stop the bickering?

Michael... At the time you asked me about gathering people at the conference that weren't gathered, it was because they couldn't find anyone doing gatherings. You were given a way to help these people because it wasn't their fault. However, in your asking you created a double-edged sword. One edge serves the ones that haven't been gathered. However, the other edge takes away from the masters one of the greatest gifts, the privilege to gather their own masters and teach them. You will no longer do gatherings at the conference. This privilege is only given to the ones that have already been gathered.

Well I guess that takes care of that and I think it's time for the masters who have been gathered to start doing gatherings again on their own. I've got something else for you. It takes me about 15 hours to get to Denver or Atlanta and some of the other places. To tell you the truth, I'm just too old for these long drives and flying is out because I don't fly anymore.

Michael... I I know you'd like to move the conference around to make it more accessible to others. You are the one that chooses where the conference will be held. Choose a place closer to you.

Now why didn't I think of that. I know just the place. I'll give them a call and see if I can get it reserved for us. As long as we're clearing the air, I got something else. In the hotel where we had the last conference, somebody had Covid and I caught it. It took me almost 3 weeks before I could do anything but sleep and go to the bathroom and then back to sleep. But the good news is I didn't end up in the hospital, on a respirator or worse, being dead. I know it's my own fault because I didn't wear a mask or take any precautions. I guess I thought I was impervious to it. The thing that I hated the most about it was I didn't have any energy throughout the first few weeks and I'm still not 100%. With all the bad luck surrounding this last conference, truth I was about ready to say screw the whole thing, I'm done. So, I figure I'll give it another shot. I guess all I need to do now is find a place to get started putting together the conference for this coming June.

Michael... Our time is done for now I will speak with you again once you find a place for your conference. Be at peace and teach only love.

Like so many times before, I watched the ball of light fade and Michael was gone. I see I need to get started on having a conference this June. There is a lot of work to do to get ready for this so I'm going to start making calls on Monday to find a place. I will get this visit out right now and on to the webpage.

Bless your heart,
Joe
